

Shadows Across the Promised Land

Original Color Prints are 15" x 15" and 19" x 19"
© Leslie Starobin

In the mid-nineties, I shifted my focus from the bathers at the Dead Sea and the deceptively peaceful, desert landscapes of the Judean region to archaeological and religious sites, as well as monuments/memorials marking the tragic history of this Promised Land. These photographs from regions in Israel and Palestine constitute the series, Shadows Across the Promised Land.

List of Photographs:

art-01

The Monument to the Negev Brigade of the Palmach, #1, Beersheba

art-02

Interior, British Prison, Russian Compound, Jerusalem

art-03

Roman Aqueduct, Sippori

art-04

Necropolis, Beth She'arim

art-05

Who Lives Here?

Ammunition Hill, Jerusalem

art-06

Morning Shadows Behind the British Prison, Russian Compound, Jerusalem

art-07

Abandoned Mosque, Tiberias

art-08

Shadows Across the Portal, (Russian Orthodox Church), Old City, Jerusalem

art-09

Archway to the Churvah Synagogue, Old City, Jerusalem

art-10

Tomb of a Talmudic Rabbi, Tiberias